

ReadyOC School Assembly

Is Your School Prepared?

Are your students ready for the next disaster? Get your school prepared for emergencies with a dynamic school assembly delivered by retired Santa Ana Police Department Officer John Reed and his ever ready companion Ready Fox!

During a FREE interactive 30-minute assembly led by Officer John Reed, your students will learn how to get ready for a disaster at home or at school.

Officer John Reed and Ready Fox teach Santa Ana elementary school students how to get prepared for emergencies by building a kit.

What Your Students Will Learn:

- ✓ Basic components of an emergency kit
- ✓ Disasters that could affect Orange County
- ✓ Importance of a family emergency plan
- ✓ How to recognize key emergency responders (i.e., firefighter, police officer, etc.)
- ✓ How to make a "Promise to Prepare" for emergencies and disasters

Family Readiness Kit:

As part of the curriculum, students K-5 receive a fun ReadyOC start-up family readiness kit which includes an emergency documents bag, family emergency plan template, emergency kit checklist and more. The kit will help families learn how to plan for emergencies together at home and prepares our community.

"ReadyOC is a phenomenal program that is very learning-oriented. It's a fun assembly, but there's a message. Officer Reed is such an asset, and we are so blessed to have him on our campus. The kids just absolutely love him; you can see it in their faces and they are absorbing what he is saying. He's right on the mark."

- Marisela Longacre, Principal
Andrew Jackson Elementary School
